SEA COVE AT 8 TO 1 WINS CHUCTANUNDA HANDICAP

Hewitt Entry at 8 to 1 Splashes Way Through Mud—Favorite Badly Beaten.

By Vincent Treanor.

AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, June 30.—Sea Cove splashed his way through the mud in front of the Chuctanunda Selling Handicap today. He went to the front at the start and was never caught. Cum Sah chased him valiantly and so did Messinas, but Sea Cove had enough left to stall off their respective challenges in the final drive, and at the end won handsily by a length.

Regal Lodge, played into the favorite's position, was away badly. He loomed up in the stretch, but then died away again. Camouflage, played heavily because of his mud running ability, was a hind last. Sea Cove was 8 to 1 in the betting.

The races were run in mud ankle deep. Despite the rain there was a big crowd.

Seven three-year-olds filled paraded to the post for the Gazette Stakes, worth $2,000 to the winner, at one and a sixteenth mile, among which G. A. Cochran's Banker, was chosen by the wise men to lead the track, and backed accordingly. It was no race for the favorite, who dominated the running throughout, taking the

ONLY ALL-DAY RAIN WILL PUT BATTLE OVER TILL "4TH"

The Dempsey-Carpenter championship battle will be postponed only in case it rains hard Saturday morning and the storm lasts until early afternoon.

If postponed it will be held at 3 P. M. Monday, July 4.

If it should rain Saturday when most of the crowd is gathered in the Stadium at Jersey City the fight will go on.

Should there be rain at the time of the battle, a special umbrella-like apparatus will be raised over the ring proper to keep Dempsey and Carpenter dry without obstructing the view of the spectators.

lead at the start and winning handsily at the end from Last Straw, who followed the pacemaker resolutely but never seriously menaced the flying leader. Chateau-Thierry, racing coupled with Jeseva, was much the best of the balance and held the short end of the purse safely by eight lengths. Polly Ann failed to run to expectations.

In the first race, play was divided between La Kross, Gloomy Gus and Salute, but at the end none of the trio was in the money. La Kross led most of the way followed by Florain, until well into the stretch, where both retired. Then Challenger came from behind and won in handy fashion from Brink with Horeb third.

Sea Bryn, owned by the Canterbury Farm, captured the steeplechase from Peccant, who ran out at the seventeenth jump. Sea Bryn won it by two lengths, with Peccant second and Overmatch third. Peccant set all the pace, followed by the winner and Overmatch, which lasted to get the show. Beck fell at the third jump.

Britain Never Will Fight U. S., Says Carson.

LONDON, June 30.—"America and Great Britain never will fight again," Lord Curzon declared today in accepting for his country a statue of George Washington. The statue, he said, will stand a symbol of the "indissoluble Anglo-American friendship."

STILLMAN WILL NOT REPLY AND FACES PROSECUTION

PROSECUTION OF STILLMAN THREATENED AS HE REFUSES AGAIN TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

DODGES OTHER QUERIES

Financier, on Stand, Asked About $500,000 Presents to Mrs. Leeds.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
DOUGHERTIE, June 30.—A definite pledge to "institute criminal proceedings" against James A. Stillman was made today by John E. Mack, attorney for two-year-old Guy Stillman before Surrogate Daniel J. Gleason of Dutchess County, sitting as referee in the divorce action of Stillman vs. Stillman at Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Mack's announcement followed the second day of cross-examination of Mr. Stillman by the attorney defending Mrs. Stillman. The financier insisted in his refusal to answer nearly all the questions put to him by advice of counsel, on the ground "I would tend to incriminate me."

It was not clear whether the prosecution Mr. Mack had in mind was one for contempt or was to be based on the discrepancy between the present answers of Mr. Stillman and those given on his direct examination in the case at the hearing of the Bar Association in New York City last winter.

At that time Mr. Stillman swore without qualification he was the father of "only three children," his obvious intent being to disown the paternity of little Guy Stillman.

GOV. EDWARDS REFUSES DEMAND BY REFORMERS TO PREVENT THE BIG FIGHT

Rickard Is Also Assured by Prosecutor Garven No Step Looking to Indictment of Principals Will Be Taken—Betting Odds on Dempsey Drop From 3 to 2 1-2 to 1.

Dr. Wilbur M. Crafts, head of the International Reform Bureau, made a final and unsuccessful attempt to stop the Dempsey-Carpenter bout this afternoon by sending a letter to Gov. Edwards, in which he set forth that the contest will constitute a violation of the law and that if it is held, every one connected with it will be criminally prosecuted.

He demanded that the Governor stop the bout.
Dr. Crafts gave a copy of his letter to the press. Gov. Edwards had not received the letter when he was told about it this afternoon.

"The fight will go on," said the Governor, "and it will be conducted absolutely within the law."

It was rumored in Jersey City today that Jack Dempsey will spend Friday night and part of Saturday, preceding his appearance at the arena, in the spacious home of Mayor Frank Hague in Hamilton Park. The Mayor refused to deny or confirm the rumor.

In response to a direct question from Tex Rickard who complained that because of reports that the Dempsey-Carpenter match is to be stopped by some legal process he is receiving hundreds of cancellations of orders for tickets, Prosecutor Pierre Garven gave this afternoon what amounts to a positive guarantee that the bout will take place.

"Unless," said Mr. Garven, "more proof is presented to me than is already in my hands, I shall not ask the Grand Jury to consider the requests from certain interests that indictments be found against Rickard, the principals and their managers."

This statement was made after Mr. Garven had consulted with Joseph H. Rudiger, the foreman of the Grand Jury. The International Reform Bureau and the five Jersey City clergymen who are trying to stop the battle must present more evidence, and at this stage of the proceedings it is impossible for them to get it.

The evidence in hand is open to the objections made to it by the three Chancery Court Judges, who refused to issue an injunction because it is based on assumptions and not on facts.

Reports that Jack Dempsey is suffering from an attack of nerves, due to his belief that he is unpopular with the public because he did not wear a uniform during the war, and that worry is reducing the champion's weight until it appears that he may go into the ring on Saturday weighing around 185 pounds, or only thirteen pounds more than Carpenter, have had the effects of shortening the betting odds. Adherents of the challenger were accepting 2 1-2 to 1 today. The betting had been 3 to 1 on Dempsey.

Never before in a championship contest has the mental condition of the participants attracted so much attention. Dempsey is excitable and has a violent temper. Carpenter's nervous system is always under control.

After his war experiences, his appearance before 80,000 people will be in the nature of a commonplace event to him. Seemingly the public has come to the conclusion that this is to be a battle of brains and temperaments as well as a battle of brawn.

To-day's downpour had no effect on the fight.

NOT 3 PER CENT. OF HITS BY BOMBS

Location of Manless Warship by Planes Was the Only Real Success of Yesterday's Test.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Aerial bombers attacking the radio-controlled battleship Lulu, yesterday scored less than 3 per cent. of hits, according to an official report to the Navy Department today from Vice Admiral Hilary P. Jones, in charge of the tests.

Seventy bombs were dropped and two struck the Lulu. Aviation experts of the army and navy were gratified at the success of the acrobats in locating the Lulu as quickly as they did and were not discouraged by the low percentage of hits.

U. S. ATTITUDE TO AFFECT TREATY
London Papers Say the Anglo-Japanese Pact Will Be Renewed.

LONDON, June 30 (Associated Press).—The Pall Mall Gazette and Globe say the British Cabinet today decided upon renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty, but that discussion is proceeding on certain modifications that have been suggested.

These have special relation to the American attitude toward the treaty and the position of India, the newspaper adds.
